Welcome to the 2019-20 Season

Tuesday, October 01, 2019

Welcome to The Approach, the online resource center for women's bowling head and assistant officials created by the NCAA specifically to address the needs of collegiate officiating. We are excited about the new season and look forward to the opportunities to communicate important women's bowling information with you this year on the website

Registration is now available. After registering, please visit The Approach frequently to stay current on the latest Women's Bowling officiating news and information, including rules interpretations, officiating bulletins and education on officiating basics, guidance regarding event duties and preparing the lanes for fair play, lane maintenance patterns, and event certification and head officials forms. Video clips will be posted under the VideoTab, and click the Rules BooksTab to view this year's rules book. To take this year's annual rules and officiating exam, click the Testing Tab.

Included in this year's Welcome Packet is the 2018-2019 and 2019-20 NCAA Women's Bowling Rules Book.

We continue to believe your membership in The Approach will provide a significant and positive effect for generations of women's bowling officials. We sincerely thank you for registering.
